Food for your Journey – Christ in People

A Portuguese novel tells the story of a young man who travelled to the Indies to seek a fortune, and in a few years returned to Lisbon with several ships laden with wealth.

"Now," he thought, "I'll play a trick on my relatives." He put on some worn-out clothes and went round to see his cousin Pedro.

"Here I am, your cousin John. After some years in India, I have come back home. You see how I am fixed... Could I stay at your home for a time?"

"Oh, my dear John, how I wish I could put you up. Unfortunately, there isn't a room free in my house."

John went round to another friend, and another, but everywhere he found the door closed against him.

Then he returned to his ships, got into his best clothes, and sailed into town with a dozen servants attending him. He bought a large mansion right on the main street of Lisbon. Within a few weeks his fabulous wealth was the talk of the town.

"Who could have imagined it?" said his friends and relatives who had given him the brush-off. "If we had only known, how differently we would have acted. But now we have spoiled our chances with him forever."

Our Lord comes to us every day under the guise of those who need our help.

A Smile for your Journey – "Thanks a Lot Lord"

Little Anna's father drove the family home from church. After washing their hands Anna and her father sat at the table. Anna's mother brought heaping plates of dinner and set them in front of the girl and her daddy. As he always did, Anna's father grumbled about the meal, then asked the blessing.

Looking confused, Little Anna asked, "Daddy, does God hear us when we pray?"

"Why, of course, Anna," he replied. "He hears us every time we pray."

"And does He hear everything we say the rest of the time?"

"Yes, every word," he answered, encouraged that he had inspired his daughter to be curious about spiritual matters.

Innocently she burst his bubble with her next question. "Then which does God believe?"

FYI: Bulletins will be printed every two weeks during the summer months. Let the office know if there is something you would like to add to the bulletin. Please be aware of the dates if it is time sensitive. Thank you.
