Food for Your Journey - God's Broadmindedness

A young convert approached his pastor with a question: "How can God, who is good, forgive a sinner? Isn't he repulsed by all the hatred and jealousy that fills people?"

The pastor looked warmly at this young, enthusiastic friend and said, "You are the third generation in a family of master furniture makers. Tell me, if a fine table that your grandfather had made was scratched, would you throw it away?"

"Of course not!" the young man exclaimed. "A scratch can hardly change the character of a fine piece of furniture."

"And," the pastor continued, "if you nicked a well-crafted oak table, would you toss it away?"

"Throw it away? No way!" reacted the young man. "Even with a few scratches, quality furniture is sturdy and valuable."

"You have spoken like a true professional," the pastor replied. "You share the same norm that God follows when he judges people precious and valuable in spite of their obvious flaws."

A Smile for Your Journey - At the Cemetery

A newly appointed young minister was contacted by the local funeral director to hold a graveside service in a small country cemetery. Because the deceased had no friends or family left, there was to be no funeral, just the committal.

The pastor started to the cemetery early enough, but he soon lost his way, causing him to arrive thirty minutes late. There was no hearse or funeral director in sight, just the workmen, who were sitting under a tree eating lunch. Moving to the newly dug grave, the minister opened his prayer book and read the service over the vault lid that was in place.

When returning to his car, the preacher overheard one of the workmen say, "Maybe we'd better tell him that's a septic tank."

We are looking for volunteers to join our Hospitality team. You would need to greet parishioners before mass and hand out bulletins after. We are also looking for more volunteers to read at mass. We need more Eucharist Ministers to assist at mass too. If you are interested in joining any of these important ministries, please let the parish office know.
